

True genius resides in the capacity for evaluation of uncertain, hazardous, and conflicting information.

(Winston Churchill)

Research is what I'm doing when I don't know what I'm doing.

(Wernher Von Braun)

The National Health service and the Welfare State have come to be used as interchangeable terms, and in the mouths of some people as terms of reproach. Why this is so it is not difficult to understand, if you view everything from the angle of a strictly individualistic competitive society. A free health service is pure Socialism and as such it is opposed to the hedonism of capitalist society.

(Nye Bevan)

Now listen to what the son of a waiter has to tell you: A really well-bred man never submits to the waiter's tyranny, and among the waiters, of course, are some who think as well-bred people do.

( Heinrich Böll, Billiards at Half-past Nine )

'Dude, it's never too late to have a happy childhood'

(Joseph Finder, Paranoia)
